

Here's a list of things you'll need at camp.

GIRLS:

Bible (If you don't have one, we'll get you one. Or check with the people from your church. They're good folks.)

Bedding (sleeping bag and pillow or blankets, sheet, etc. The teen barracks have bunk beds with a mattress only.)

Towel (a good camper ALWAYS knows where his/her towel is)

Bath supplies (PLEASE shower every day at camp at LEAST once!)

Toothbrush/toothpaste

Deodorant (PLEASE!)

Small fan for sleepy-time (NO WINDOW AIR CONDITIONERS allowed in teen barracks please!)

Ball glove (we have a few loaners, but your own is always better)

Band instrument (if you play)

Sunscreen

A little stash of cash for the snack stand! (Most people find that $20 or less for the week is plenty, but only you know how sweet your sweet tooth is... By the way, the dining hall meals are wonderful, filling food with dessert included, so you don't HAVE to spend anything on snacks at all.)

Your favorite water bottle (drink LOTS of water at camp!)

Knee-length dresses or skirts that come to the knee when sitting, and tops with sleeves for evening and Sunday services (no shorts or pants, and nothing sleeveless, please)

Loose-fitting, knee-length athletic attire with t-shirts for daytime activities (loose basketball-style that come to the knee when sitting. No pants or pajama-style clothing worn during the daytime please, and nothing sleeveless)

Pajamas

Swimwear

Whatever it is that you need to do what you do with your hair (but please keep it to a minimum - you're going to camp, not to a fashion show...)

___ Something to wear to the Saturday night teen party! (The theme changes every year. Please check our Facebook page for the current theme.)

___ Enough clothing for two outfits per day (one activity-style for daytime, one nicer outfit for evening, and whatever else you need) or laundry supplies and quarters for the laundry facilities (the laundry line is usually long, so be prepared for that.)
